

Emerald Points will cover a wide range of fields across the social sciences.

These include:

- Business
- Criminology
- Economics
- Education
- Environment
- Finance & Accounting
- Geography & Urban Studies
- Health & Social Care
- Management
- Media & Communication
- Politics & Public Policy
- Sociology

It is a pleasure working with Emerald. The team was incredibly supportive, dynamic and truly interested in the substance of the works published.

Amy C. Edmondson,
Harvard Business School,
USA; author of
Extreme Teaming

What next?

We are actively commissioning Emerald Points book proposals across the social sciences. If you have a proposal or an idea for a new title then do get in touch with:

Pete Baker

Editorial Director,
Business, Management,
Finance and Economics
pbaker@emeraldinsight.com

Philippa Grand

Editorial Director,
Social Sciences
pgrand@emeraldinsight.com

Be part of something different publish your book with Emerald

EMERALD POINTS

Making your research accessible, helping you achieve maximum impact

Features of Emerald Points

- Fast track publication

12 weeks from submission of your manuscript and peer review, through to publication of your book.

- Relevance

Allows you to publish your research quickly, so it remains relevant and has an immediate impact.

- Accessibility

All Points titles are available in print and e-book format. Open Access options are also available.

- Impact

Format, fast publication, and accessibility, all enable your work to have a wider impact.

- Peer review

All books in the Points programme are rigorously peer reviewed.

- Global marketing platform

Your title will be marketed, sold and distributed by a truly global and independent publisher.

The combination of peer reviewed content and timely publication mean that each Emerald Point is authoritative and relevant, delivering compelling insights for a global audience.

This new short-form book programme publishes new research, and helps set the agenda for future research. Each title provides a thorough critical assessment of an issue.

Emerald Points allow for a fast response to current affairs and contemporary issues, and can also include think-pieces or polemics, policy-focused research or findings with relevance for practitioners, in-depth case studies, theoretical or analytical work. We welcome single-authored projects or proposals for edited collections, and actively welcome submissions from Early Career Researchers. The format allows you to publish your research free from artificial length restrictions.

Your Emerald Point will be between 20,000-50,000 words in length. Emerald will ensure expert editorial guidance and high quality production standards, and your work will benefit from our pro-active marketing support and promotion.

Forthcoming titles

www.emeraldpublishing.com