

CiteScore News

---

Through the launch of a new basket of metrics called CiteScore by Elsevier, Emerald accounting, finance and economics journals certainly demonstrate their impact within the academic research community:

- 74% of Emerald's Scopus indexed journals in accounting, finance and economics increased the number of citations they received from other Scopus journals.
- Over 85% of journals in accounting, finance and economics saw an increase in their CiteScore. The Journal of Economic Studies, Managerial Auditing Journal and Sustainability Accounting, Management and Policy Journal increased their CiteScore the most.
- 13 journals (62%) are positioned in the top two quartiles for at least one of their respective categories. Accounting, Auditing and Accountability Journal is positioned in the top 10% in its two subject categories.
- Further analysis show that the average change in citations received from other indexed journals was up by 26%, while the average CiteScore was up by 11%.
- Top performers in terms of CiteScore are:
  - Accounting: Accounting, Auditing and Accountability Journal, Meditari Accountancy Research and Managerial Auditing Journal
  - Economics and Finance: Journal of Economic Studies, Studies in Economics and Finance, and the International Journal of Islamic and Middle Eastern Finance and Management
- On average 42% of the content published in the journals is cited.
- Two journals have received a CiteScore for the first time: Meditari Accountancy Research and the International Journal of Islamic and Middle Eastern Finance and Management.

