Library Studies eBook Collection

Emerald's Library Studies eBook Collection provides in-depth and comprehensive analysis, making it an essential resource for information researchers, educators, librarians and students. The collection offers over 25 years of international research studies on key topics such as information science, organizational theory, innovation, information behaviour and management and leadership.

Key Titles

Advances in Librarianship

Series Editor: Paul T. Jaeger

Associate Professor and Co-Director, Information Policy and Access Center (iPAC), the College of Information Studies, University of Maryland, USA

This eBook Series is a key resource for practitioners, researchers, students and faculty members seeking in-depth literature and solutions to current and emerging issues in the fields of library and information science and related fields.

Popular content includes: 'Leadership Roles of an Academic Library in Community Outreach: Surabaya Memory Project' Volume 38 (2014)

Advances in Library Administration and Organization

Series Editor: Samantha Schmehl Hines

Associate Dean of Instructional Resources, Peninsula College, USA

The series offers an eclectic mix of timely, thought-provoking articles, bringing together national and global studies and conveying the kind of research which current library managers and researchers need, mixing theory with a good dose of pragmatism.

Studies in Information

(previously Library and Information Science)

Series Editor: Professor Jens-Erik Mai

Royal School of Library and Information Science University of Copenhagen, Denmark

This book series is concerned with all aspects of information; its nature, politics, institutions, usages, and technologies, and it presents research from a wide range of disciplinary traditions.

"This is one of the most exciting titles I have come across in the information literacy (IL) literature for some time."

Evi Tramantza, University of Surrey, UK

1991 - 2015
