Our commitment to positive change

Diverse voices

We firmly believe that research is most impactful when diverse voices are included. We are proud to have been selected by The Times as one of the Top 50 Employers for Gender Equity in the UK.

Research impact and impact literacy

As an early DORA signatory and a supporter of The Hidden REF, we are committed to enabling healthy impact culture and equitable research assessment.

Acting ethically and responsibly

We were a founding signatory of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs) Publishers Compact. More than 60% of our journals and 90% of our books are mapped to at least one SDG. We are committed to sustainable publishing and a proud signatory of Publishing Declares, the Publishers Association's climate action pledge.

Supporting open research

We have developed a robust open access journals programme and are among the few publishers offering green open access without an embargo period. Our platinum open access portfolio is approaching 80 journals.
